Tess Broussard Biography

Tess Broussard™ is a socialite and a true Southern Belle who moved to Los Angeles to pursue her education and a career path in the arts. After a lot of hard work and effort, Tess has established herself as an accomplished actress and model. Tess arrived in Los Angeles to pursue her education, graduating from Pepperdine University with a B.A. in advertising. After college, Tess challenged herself in a number of diverse work environments. She worked as an account executive at an advertising agency, as a paralegal, in public relations and in real estate, all while pursuing her dream of an acting and modeling career. After years of diligence and perseverance, this Eurasian beauty found success as a spokes model, actress and reality star.

In the following years, Tess represented companies such as General Motors Cadillac Division, Harley Davidson, and Budweiser in their national campaigns. She was also featured in several sportswear and swimsuit calendars, catalogues, and in the high-profile magazines FHM and Maxim.

Tess then became successful in the world of acting. She played the Pink Vixen on VR Troopers, a popular children's show. She has also made appearances on the Jaime Foxx Show, Comedy Central, various HBO movies and popular game shows, including a stint as the host on the Extreme Gong Show.

Not a vacuous nor self-centered actress, Tess spends most of her free time giving back to the community as an active volunteer. She is designing a line of women's and pet accessories and continues her public speaking tour when time permits.

Tess has been especially active at several local animal shelters. Her love for animals has resulted in her adoption of two cats and dogs named Gucci and Salvador Dali. Her other pastimes include staying physically fit, reading, traveling, yoga, 4-wheeling and appreciating modern art.

Tess Broussard™ - A radiant beauty and powerhouse business woman. In 2004 Tess Broussard launched her much needed foundation appropriately named "The Tess Broussard™ Foundation". The core focus of the foundation is to promote healthy relationships and the fight against domestic violence. Ms. Broussard launched her foundation out of need. I want to help women in these types of situations. "I hope to be able to encourage and empower women in every area of their lives, that is my goal", says Tess.

30. MAR. 2012 1 COMMENT

Rami Jaffe, multi-Grammy award winning artist of the Foo Fighters/ Wallflower's and Tess Broussard lead in "The Nick Kroll Show" on Comedy Central, pose outside Rami's studio after a mutual support session for the charity SPCA to help abandoned animals.

Tess plays "Shannon" Nick Kroll's wife and step- mom to Andy Milonakis' character.

Speaking at ASPCA /Rek charity event. It's such a great organization to donate pet food and adopt pets that need good, loving homes!
